

It's time for Courageous Conversations!

Enroll now for this online course to learn how to have effective conversations that will lead to greater understanding of one another and identify the positive things we have in common to help us move into the future. The course is taught by Rev. Scott Hughes over four sessions. You will be encouraged to listen to videos for instruction, read interesting articles, type your responses to questions, and join conversations with other students. For more information, watch the following video:
