

Emotional and Spiritual Support Available for Pastoral Leaders

“If one part of the body suffers, every part suffers with it. If one part is honored, every part rejoices with it. Now you are the body of Christ, and each one of you is a part of it.” - I Corinthians 12:26

Many parts of the body of Christ are hurting right now. We, on the extended cabinet and conference staff, are increasingly aware of the stresses and strains that many of our colleagues in ministry are experiencing in this challenging time. We hear stories of exhaustion, anxiety, discouragement, disappointment and pain. We know how difficult it has become to take time for Sabbath and personal care. Our families are also feeling the strain under the weight of this pandemic. Where do we go for help when we are serving as wounded healers?

Here are resources that you may turn to for help and healing.

1. Monthly Worship Services offered to give pastors space for rest and renewal. January’s service is available now on the conference website under Worship Resources. Links to the other services will be made available on the dates listed and then posted on the website.

January: “Three Invitations from Jesus” Rev. Gary Shockley, preaching (available now)

February 14: “The Power of One Samaritan” Joyce Davis, preaching

March 14: “We Are Disciples” Julia Briselli, preaching

April 11: “Healed by His Wounds” Rev. Judy Walker, preaching

The offices of Grow, Equip and Connect have trained coaches who can walk with you through the season to help you work on whatever is important to you and your wellbeing including developing personal wellness goals, time management, stress management, focus and finding direction through whatever challenge you face. Coaching support has no other focus or agenda than what you bring to the conversation. An ordained pastor in our annual conference, Beth has over 20 years of experience leading retreat and workshop experiences as well as hiking and backpacking excursions in the mountains of North Central PA. Beth’s desire is to help people discover extraordinary possibilities in life, faith and relationships through a restorative connection with the natural world.
